Case Study: La Belle Epoque

www.lemanoir.com

Outline

The luxurious ambience and attention to detail of Le Manoir aux Quat' Saisons has become popular for high level executive board meetings, private dining and weddings. To provide a setting reflecting these core standards, a redevelopment of the private dining room was undertaken, creating the effortless sophistication of La Belle Epoque. The brief for CGA Integration was to weave intuitive, unobtrusive access to the tools for modern presentation requirements into this premium quality décor.

Challenges

The main challenges were to achieve a zero visibility installation and excellent audio quality, while maintaining flexibility and anticipation of any room configuration.

Transformation of room function, routine operation and troubleshooting were also to be possible by non technical staff requiring a robust system

Technical

The backbone of the installation delivers vocal reinforcement of speakers. Sennheiser radio microphones begin with excellent capture quality, feeding through Cloud amps with zoned distribution via invisible speakers and a DDA compliant induction loop. Zoning allows multiple configurations and keeps headroom in the system to manage signal from physically and vocally dynamic motivational speakers. By integrating feeds from local and site wide IPTV sources, the venue can support private dining with client specified audio and video content.

Response

Gurval Durand, Deputy General Manager 'We contracted "CGA Integration" to upgrade our private dining room audio/visual; "CGA Integration" came as a trusted and reputable company. Having a very high standard in the hospitality industry, I was surprised by their attention to detail in installation, support and training combined with advice on future developments.'
